

CDGC Monthly Meeting Summary

On February 15, the CDGC held its second meeting of the year. A record number of people (18) attended the meeting shattering last month's turnout! Would like to give a warm welcome to our newest member, Casey McMahon. For those that haven't met Casey, you might have met him indirectly by hearing his favorite word while throwing discs resonate through the park. For those that know Casey, you know what that word is dammit! And a welcome back to renewing member Alan Beaver. Great to have you back in the flock Alan!

A generous thanks to Kelly's for allowing our eclectic group to grace their establishment once again. Jason managed to keep the horde happy with food and tasty cold adult beverages; obligatory sustenance for this disc golfer. We still need to decide what to do with the $500.00 sponsorship money Kelly's has offered the CDGC. Member tags, club t-shirts, and using a portion for the fundraiser tournament are some ideas that have been put out there so far. If you have any other suggestions, please let me know.

We somehow managed to get in some club business between the merriment and this is it:

Work Day March 20th:

A work day has been scheduled for Saturday, March 20th, at 2:00pm at Earlewood. We will be meeting at the shelter on hole 12. Planned work includes shoring up the repairs to hole 6's tee pad, repairing hole 2's tee pad and cutting the posts on hole 16. General course maintenance (sweeping tee pads and debris removal) will also be done if there are enough volunteers and time allows. Most of the items needed to accomplish the work have been secured. However, if you have a shovel, loppers, or a sturdy broom handy, bring it along. And bring your discs too! Work stops promptly at 4:00pm so we can get in a casual round before calling it a day.

Earlewood Classic:

Everything is a go for March 6-7. A bit of good news is the fact that the building will still be intact and available for use. Also, Brad Bolton will be taking photographs throughout the day Saturday. On Sunday, for a small fee to be determined, you can select photographs of your favorite disc golfer (probably yourself!) to be printed or emailed. However, all pictures showing disc golfers throwing with their eyes closed will not be obtainable as they will be deleted instantly! Feeling me on this Brad?

Fundraiser Tournament March 27th:

The sponsor form is finished and available to all. Hard copies can be provided or it can be emailed to you. We only have 10 days to secure sponsors before the player registration form is available. The Dickerson Center for Children really needs our help so any contributions you can garner will be greatly appreciated. Companies can also offer gift cards and/or merchandise to be raffled off or used for CTP's. Duane's better half, Adrian, will be offering her famous all-u-can-eat chili along with all the fixings for lunch at a very reasonable price (I've had her chili, you will not be disappointed!).

Miscellaneous Items:

The First Baptist Church in Irmo will be putting in a 9-hole course and would like the CDGC's help in getting it in place. There will be more information coming on this soon.

The championship course being planned at Saluda Shoals is steadily moving forward! Thanks to the effort of Darrell Lambrecht, Irmo Parks has not only offered use of all 150 acres, but they are providing a surveyor to help lay out the course! Way to go D-rail!

Congratulations to our very own Sara Nicholson for her 3rd place finish at La Vie en Rose and to Ralph Pitt for a solid 6th place at the Buckhorn Open in North Carolina! Way to represent!

Until next time, keep bangin' those chains!

Scott

P.S. Casual Friday is at Earlewood this week, 3:00pm.
